

Law Cited on Water Shortage

By CINDY REESE

Ordinance No. 859 published in today's Star empowers city officials to prohibit certain uses of water by force of law if the present water situation becomes worse.

According to City Manager Garland Medders, the only enforced prohibition as yet concerns watering lawns. In the future, however, other things may be prohibited by law such as washing mobile equipment, cleaning outdoor surfaces, cleaning buildings, cleaning equipment and machinery, operation of ornamental fountains and swimming pools without a filter and recirculating system, and allowing water to escape through defective plumbing.

City Police officers are authorized to enforce the ordinance upon penalty of not less than $5 nor more than $100. At present, the board has arranged to send representatives to meet with the congressional representatives concerning the water situation. They are trying to arrange a meeting July 21 in Washington. The city has already applied for assistance on improvements to industrial areas which would include drilling three additional wells near Oakhaven to supplement the city's water supply.

Mayor Frank Douglas, Director Clyde Fouse, James Plinkington, City Attorney and City Manager Garland Medders will be sent to Washington as our representatives to try to obtain some priority that will permit

Rehearing on Ashdown Bank

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Banking Board voted 3-2 Monday to grant a rehearing Sept. 16 to a group which wants permission to organize a second bank at Ashdown.

The board had refused twice to grant an application for a second bank in Ashdown. The applicants say a second bank is needed in the Ashdown area because of its economic growth.

Bruton Puts Up Bond on Indictment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bond of $2,500 was posted Monday by former Tucker Prison Farm Supt. Jim Bruton in connection with indictments charging him with 19 counts of brutality to inmates.

William C. Morgan, formerly a trustee at Tucker, also posted $2,500 bond.

Bruton and Morgan visited U. S. District Court voluntarily in the wake of the federal Grand Jury indictments handed down last Friday.

Also indicted were 13 other persons. Their bonds also are set at $2,500 each. Arrangements will not be set until all have posted bond, officials said.

The indictments allege a total of 46 instances of brutality, ranging from beatings with fists and assorted clubs to forms of torture such as attacks employing pliers, electrical shocks and other devices.

Senate Is 49-49 on ABM Lineup

By JACK BELL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Winston L. Prouty's announcement of support for the Safeguard program has moved the administration close to Senate approval of the missile defense system—but critics still are plugging for a compromise.

Sen. George D. Aiken, like Prouty a Vermont Republican, says by giving a little ground the administration could command 60 of the 100 Senate votes rather than taking a chance on a one or two vote victory.

The latest Associated Press poll shows the Senate evenly split, 49 opposed and 49 for the antiballistic missile—ABM—program as proposed by the administration. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., has not committed himself and Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., now says he also is uncommitted. McIntyre had been listed as opposed to ABM because he has offered an amendment which the administration has not endorsed.

A tie vote would be broken by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, as presiding officer of the Senate in favor of the administration.

Aiken, who has announced his opposition to the ABM proposal as it stands, suggested in an interview the administration could pick up 10 votes if any agreement could be reached on the sites for building Safeguard radars and computers without arming them with missiles until later. The senator noted that ABM proponents have said there is no intention of installing missiles in the next three years.

Aiken conceded Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and other hardcore ABM opponents probably wouldn't be swayed because they want any development and testing to be in the Pacific rather than at proposed missile sites in the United States.

Aiken said he thinks the proposal by McIntyre for construction of only radars and computers on the two sites in Montana and North Dakota picked by the administration needs "further refinement."

Refusing to concede that the administration can win as matters stand, Aiken said he had anticipated Prouty's support of the program.

He said his colleague was a "disciple of the minority leadership" which supports President Nixon's proposal and has rejected any compromise.

Prouty himself, predicting the Safeguard program would pass by a narrow margin, said he isn't sure his vote will be decisive. He said supporters had hoped for "a very substantial margin but I don't think that's going to be the case."

Prouty told the Senate Monday he wants to give Nixon a "second button" to push if a sneak nuclear attack is aimed at the United States.

Authorities in St. Louis said Broadway turned himself in to officers at a bus station Saturday night and asked for protection from persons who had been his companions.

N. Vietnam Turns Down Election

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam today formally rejected the new election proposal made by South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, and repeated its demand for a total and unconditional American withdrawal from South Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese president proposed on July 11 that all political factions in South Vietnam including the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front join in elections held under international supervision.

Wheeler Leaves for Vietnam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, left today on a trip to South Vietnam with instructions to "Make a thorough assessment of the current military situation," discuss war strategy, and check on progress toward "Vietnamizing" the war.

The Pentagon disclosed Wheeler's departure about three hours after he took off from nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., with a small party.

This is Wheeler's first trip to Vietnam since March and comes a few weeks before President Nixon is due to make a new decision on pulling out more American troops, following the withdrawal of the first increment of 25,000 now under way.

The Wheeler journey, described by the Pentagon as an inspection trip, coincides with a continuing lull in the ground fighting and new pressure from critics of U.S. war policy for a change in U.S. battlefield tactics which now stress "maximum pressure" on the enemy.

Critics contend the United States may be passing up an opportunity to de-escalate the war. The Pentagon said Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird had asked Wheeler:

1. "To make a thorough assessment of the current military situation."

2. "To study all aspects of the continuing Vietnamization program, including U.S. troop deployments."

The Nixon administration uses the term "Vietnamization" for its program of accelerated equipping, modernizing and training of the South Vietnamese armed forces to take over the major burden of the war.

3. "To consult with other military leaders on U.S. military strategy."

This third point suggested the possibility that a possible shift in U.S. battlefield tactics might be under consideration.

Rocket Fire Top Item in Vietnam

By RICHARD PYLE

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners shelled allied outposts from within the demilitarized zone four times Monday and made four other rocket attacks that could have come from inside the DMZ, the U.S. Command reported today.

The command said a total of 35 rockets and mortars were fired. It was the first shelling reported from inside the buffer zone since last Wednesday.

The U.S. Command also reported the loss of four more U.S. Army helicopters, two to enemy action and two that collided while maneuvering to avoid enemy fire.

Four Americans were killed and three wounded in the aerial collision late Monday 34 miles north of Saigon. Two South Vietnamese were killed and three Americans were wounded in one of the other crashes.

One of the helicopters was destroyed when a South Vietnamese soldier detonated an enemy mine as he leaped off it near Tay Ninh.

The U.S. Command said this raised the total of helicopter lost in the war to 2,850.

A command spokesman said that "surprisingly" none of the shelling near the DMZ caused any casualties or material damage. The targets included a South Vietnamese infantry outpost near Glo Linh, a U.S. Marine position four miles southeast of Con Thien, another Marine post near Con Thien, and three other allied bases in that area.

Vertical Landing Craft Falls

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York Airways STOL craft, bound for Newark, N.J., crashed upon takeoff at Kennedy Airport today, killing the pilot and co-pilot and injuring the stewardess and 11 passengers, police said.

American and South Vietnamese forces reported a total of 72 enemy killed in a series of actions, most of them small in size, in various parts of South Vietnam.

U.S. B52 bombers meanwhile pounded Black Virgin Mountain today as the U.S. Command kept up a campaign to block another offensive against Tay Ninh City.

America's biggest bombers flew three raids Monday night and early Tuesday against the 3,232-foot mountain, which overlooks the key provincial capital northwest of Saigon. The big bombers dumped more than 500 tons of explosives on suspected North Vietnamese and Viet-Cong positions.

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—From countdown to splashdown, television's cameras will accompany the Apollo 11 astronauts to the surface of the moon and back.

Coverage plans of the historic flight are reaching historic proportions. During the critical phases of the moon landing the three networks will be on the air continuously for at least 30 hours.

Two hour-long previews of the flight will be offered tonight. NBC's special is at 7:30-8:30 p.m. and CBS's at 10-11 p.m. All times are Eastern Daylight.

Coverage of the liftoff, set for 9:32 a.m. Wednesday, begins in the early morning. NBC signs on at 6 a.m. with a special edition of the "Today" show. ABC begins at 7 and CBS at 8 a.m.

The Apollo 11 is to send back the first of at least seven live transmissions for 15 minutes at 7:32 p.m. Thursday. All of the transmissions will be in color except for those from the lunar module on the moon.

On Sunday, as the lunar module Eagle prepares to separate from the command module Columbia the networks will begin approximately 30 hours of continuous coverage. ABC comes on at 12 noon for 30 hours of coverage and CBS and NBC at 11 a.m. for 31 hours.

The extended coverage, which ends at 6 p.m. Monday, will take the mission through the descent of the Eagle, the landing, the walk on the moon, liftoff from the lunar surface and docking with the Columbia.

The lunar module is scheduled to touch down on the moon at 4:23 p.m. Sunday, but Astronaut Neil A. Armstrong will not leave the craft and set foot on the moon until 2:12 a.m. the next morning.

He is to be joined by astronaut Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. for a 2-hour and 40-minute exploration of the area around the capsule. Astronaut Michael Collins will remain aboard the orbiting Columbia.

When Armstrong steps out of the module, an automatic black and white television camera in the descent stage will be activated to transmit pictures of the first footsteps on the moon.

A special Trendex survey commissioned by ABC estimates that nearly 50 per cent of the U.S. viewers will stay up for the moon walk. In other parts of the world it will be daylight and hundreds of millions of people in Europe, Africa and Asia are expected to witness the event by satellite television.

Armstrong is scheduled to take the camera out of the descend stage and set it on a tripod 25 feet from the lunar module for a constant view of the astronauts working on the moon.

Obviously, during the period of extended coverage Sunday and Monday there will be long hours between activities. So the networks are lining up all kinds of attractions, from scientific reproductions of the moon's surface to science fiction to moonlight and romance.

On CBS, former President Lyndon B. Johnson will discuss his role in the space program, and Orson Welles will discuss the relevance of science fiction.

Duke Ellington is composing a piece of original music on the moon landing for ABC. The network also is setting up a special telephone system so that viewers around the nation can question newsmen about the moon mission. The most pertinent queries will be answered on the air.

NBC will try again to show the Apollo 11 in flight, through the 16-inch telescope at the Fernbank Science Center in DeKalb County, Ga. Van Heffin, James Earl Jones and Julie Harris will read from the letters and journals of famous explorers.

Van Heffin, James Earl Jones and Julie Harris will read from the letters and journals of famous explorers. Danny Kaye, in his first television appearance in three years, will co-host a portion of the coverage.

NEW YORK (AP)—Here are the times for scheduled live television transmissions from the Apollo 11 command ship Columbia and the lunar module Eagle—all times Eastern Day-

Thursday, July 17, at 7:30-7:47 P.M.—First transmission from the Apollo command ship, Columbia.

Friday, July 18, at 7:30-7:47 P.M.—Second transmission from the Apollo, Color.

Saturday, July 19, at 4:02-4:17 P.M.—Transmission from the Apollo in lunar orbit, Color.

Sunday, July 20, at 1:52-2:07 P.M.—To show the undocking and beginning of the descent of the lunar module.

Monday, July 21, at 1:57-2:07 a.m.—From command module in lunar orbit, Color. At 2:12-4:23 a.m. from the moon, showing astronaut Neil A. Armstrong setting foot on the moon and lunar activities of Armstrong and astronaut Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. Black and white.

Wednesday, July 23, at 7:02-7:17 p.m.—Final transmission from the Apollo, en route to earth. Color.

Help, Not Hindrance
Hair styles are longer now that women realize length can be a help rather than a hindrance. Today's most attractive heads boast smooth, shining hair with just a hint of curl. This enables the wearer to shampoo often, without a worry about setting time. The versatile length also allows enough hair to be tied back with a bright ribbon or scarf away from the face when the mercury rises.

Back In Hair Fashion
Braids are back in hair fashion. Thick, braided pony tails, low-hanging side braids and intricately wound cornet braids provide a fast, attractive solution for the what-to-do-with-your-hair problem.

ier it is, the more they enjoy it! Maybe if these people read a statement from someone they've put down as "immoral," they might get some insight. Here's the rap:
The idea of living together before you get married, as far as I am concerned, is more than an experiment. It is a necessity. My wife and I lived together for five months before we wed—in my parents' home, at their suggestion. It worked, because we mentally got into each other, opened ourselves up and learned about who we would spend our lives with.
Some might call this scene "moral degeneracy" or a like moronic hassle, but while they spend years torturing themselves and whoever they're messed up with, my wife and I will be happily grooving together.
Another thought: If people didn't take marriage as something you simply do, like going from grammar into high school, or eating; if they put their heads, hearts and soul into it and thought about it, then maybe there would be less divorce and more lasting joy.
When I say THINK about it, I am not talking of surface garbage like where to live, how big a house, how many kids, or do you like your hot dog (with relish or mustard?) I mean finding out where your possible mate is at, what he or she believes in, their attitudes toward life, the world, politics, and the reasons why. I mean REALLY knowing who the person is, not what kind of car he drives or how secure his job happens to be.
There is a lot of hate going around these days, a lot of bad vibrations between people, races and countries. Life seems plastic, very intangible, and almost worthless to many people, but if they would be real, honest, and not play idiot ego games, there would be a better chance for all of us.—BEARER OF ANSWERS AND POSSIBILITIES
Dear Bearer: I "groove on" all your vibrations but one: "Bed now, wed later" gets LOVE into the "just-something-you-do-like eating" thing, and I think it's a good deal more special than that. Instead of the biggest event in your lives, you make marriage an aftermath, and this seems very sad to me, some-

Namath and Rozelle May Discuss Deal

MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The Joe Namath case has taken another strange turn with pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle agreeing to discuss the situation with veteran members of the world champion New York Jets.

The big question today was which member of the Big Two involved in pro football's biggest controversy would reach the site of the Jets' camp here — Rozelle or Namath, the shaggy-haired quarterback who may or may not already be en route here.

Namath received permission Sunday from Coach Weeb Ewbank to report late and said he would "get back" to him either Tuesday night or Wednesday. Whether that meant Namath would contact Ewbank in person or by phone remained a question.

Rozelle, meanwhile, confirmed late Monday night that he had agreed earlier in the day to a command performance at the Jets' camp presumably to present his side of the issues involved in the Namath dispute. No date has as yet been set, although indications are that it will not be held until late in the week.

The Namath case, of course, revolves around the quarterback's restaurant, reportedly frequented by gamblers. Rozelle ordered Namath to sell his interests in the East Side night spot or face suspension but Namath refused and announced his retirement five weeks ago.

It has been speculated that Namath eventually will appear at camp but what his intentions are remain unknown. Should he appear and either renounce his retirement or put on a uniform for a workout, he likely would be suspended by Rozelle.

"First word of the meeting with Rozelle came from defensive back Johnny Sample, team co-captain along with Namath, after he emerged from an 8 p.m. meeting with veteran team members held in the Jets dressing room on the Hofstra University campus.

"Weeb talked to the commissioner, and he told Weeb he was going to come out here to talk to the team," said Sample, adding: "We don't want him (Rozelle) to send no secretary or no FBI man. We want him."

Sample then went back to the dormitories where the players are housed and phoned Namath, presumably to fill him in on developments.

Rozelle, from his apartment in New York, confirmed that he had agreed to talk to a committee of players.

Laver Bids for Fourth Tennis Title

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — King Rod Laver bids for a fourth straight U.S. Pro Tennis Championship against bridesmaid John Newcombe tonight in a showdown in the $33,000 tournament at Longwood.

Laver and Newcombe swept through the all-Australian semifinals with impressive victories Monday night before an overflow crowd of 5,200, the largest pro turnout in Longwood history.

The 30-year-old Laver, an executioner on the court, and fresh from his fourth Wimbledon championship, continued a drive for top prize money of $8,000 by defeating Ken Rosewall, a two-time U.S. pro finalist, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.

Montreal Beats Fading Pittsburgh

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Big Bob Veale has thrown Pittsburgh's first pitch in 20 ball games this year...and the last pitch in one.

Pirates catcher Jerry May probably wishes he had it so good.

The Montreal Expos drove Veale from the mound during a two-run eighth inning breakthrough Monday night and trimmed the fading Pirates 2-0 behind right-hander Bill Stoneman.

Veale, 4-11, has failed to finish 10 consecutive starts since April 9, when he went the distance against St. Louis in the Pirates' second game of the season.

May, who caught Veale's first pitch against the Expos, caught nothing but trouble thereafter. He was forced out of the game with a severely bruised thigh in a third inning mishap, then shaken up again when the ambulance transporting him to a Montreal hospital was involved in a collision.

Tony Bartirome, the club trainer, suffered minor lacerations in the road accident.

Pirates Manager Larry Shepard, meanwhile, remained in a St. Louis hospital, where he was taken Sunday after complaining of chest pains during the first game of a doubleheader against the Cardinals.

In Thursday's only other National League action, the Chicago Cubs increased their East Division lead over New York to 5½ games by nipping the Mets 1-0 and the Los Angeles Dodgers moved one game ahead of idle Atlanta in the West with a 4-1 victory over Houston.

In American League play, Washington blanked Detroit 3-0; Minnesota shaded the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 13 innings and California downed Kansas City 2-0.

Veale dueled Stoneman to a standoff until the Expos struck in the eighth. Bob Bailey's infield hit and singles by Coco Laboy and Jose Herrera produced one run and a walk to Adolfo Phillips finished first. Ron Brand then delivered an insurance run with a single off reliever Bob Moose.

Stoneman scattered eight hits for his fifth victory against 12 setbacks.

May, chasing Roberto Clemente's wide throw in the third, slipped on the gravel in front of the Montreal dugout and fell heavily, bruising his left thigh. After surviving the ambulance mishap, he was held overnight in St. Elizabeth's hospital for observation.

Bill Hands, given last out relief help by Phil Regan, beat Met ace Tom Seaver in a brilliant duel at Chicago. Billy Williams driving in the game's only run with a sixth inning single.

Hands, 11-7, who posted the Cubs' lone victory in a three-game set at New York last week, checked the Mets on six hits before giving way to Regan with two out in the ninth, a runner on first and a 2-0 count on pinch hitter Donn Clendenon.

The Cub bullpen ace ran the count to 3-2 before Clendenon lined to second baseman Glenn Beckert, who made a leaping catch.

Seaver, 14-4, who hurled a one-hitter against the Cubs at New York and had won eight straight decisions, matched Hands until the sixth, when Don Kessinger beat out a bunt, took second on Beckert's hit-and-run ground out and zipped across on Williams' hit to left center.

Wes Parker broke a 1-1 tie at whouston with a fourth inning homer and doubled in the ninth to launch a two-run wrapup burst. He also drove in the Dodgers' first run with a sacrifice fly.

Don Sutton picked up his 12th victory against nine losses with help from Jim Brewer, who came out of the bullpen with the bases loaded in the seventh and fanned Jim Wynn and Hector Torres to end the threat.

It took awhile to accomplish, but then most good things do. So the Minnesota Twins didn't mind working a little overtime Monday night to keep their winning streak intact.

The twins seemed headed for an end to their five-game streak until Bob Allison tagged his second home run of the night to the Chicago 2-2 in the ninth. The White Sox pushed across a run in the 12th and again Minnesota was in jeopardy but Cesar Tovar's two-out double tied it again.

By this time Chicago was beginning to get the message and the Sox went quietly in the 14th on consecutive singles by Tony Oliva, Allison and Leo Cardenas.

The 4-3 victory added one-half game to Minnesota's American League West Division lead over idle Oakland. The Twins now hold a five-game lead.

win other American League action Monday, Washington shut out Detroit 3-0 and California blanked Kansas City 2-0. The other teams were not scheduled.

In the National League, Chicago shut out New York 1-0, Los Angeles trimmed Houston 4-1 and Montreal blanked Pittsburgh 2-0. The other teams had the day off.

Allison, who had four hits for the night, blasted his 250th career homer in the second inning. But Chicago tied it in the fourth on singles by Carl Hopkins, Pete Ward and Ed Herrmann and then took the lead in the eighth on Hopkins' RBI double.

Allison tied it again in the ninth. Then Bobby Knapp's run-scoring single sent Chicago back in front in the 12th and when the first two Twins went out in the bottom half, things did not look promising for Billy Martin's club.

But pinch hitter Rod Carew beat out a bunt and then circled the bases on Tovar's two-lagger. In the 14th, the Twins wasted no time, stringing consecutive hits by Oliva, Allison and Cardenas to end it.

Both Joe Coleman of the Senators and George Brunet of the Angels hurled a second consecutive shutout.

National Pitchers for All-Star

CINCINNATI (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst will have plenty of pitchers when he tries for another National League victory in the annual major league All-Star Game on July 22—he named nine today to the squad.

The American League team will go with eight hurlers. Schoendienst named six right-handers. They, and their records going into Monday night's games, will be: Larry Dierker, Houston, 12-6; Bob Gibson, St. Louis, 11-7; Juan Marichal, San Francisco, 11-3; Phil Niekro, Atlanta, 14-7; Tom Seaver, New York 14-3, and Bill Singer, Los Angeles, 12-7.

The three left-handers selected are Steve Carlton, St. Louis 11-5; Grant Jackson, Philadelphia, 9-8, and Jerry Koosman, New York, 7-5.

The nine hurlers have a combined won-and-lost record of 101-51. Only Niekro, Dierker, Singer and Jackson are newcomers to an All-Star squad.

The senior member, of course, is Marichal, who was picked for the eighth time. He has pitched 16 innings in seven such games, allowed seven hits and one earned-run for a 0.56 ERA.

he paced the league in victories with a 26-9 mark and also led in complete games with 30. Gibson is next in All-Star seniority. This was the sixth time for him to be selected. In three pitching performances he has allowed only one earned run in six innings.

Seaver has been named to the squad every year since making good with the Mets three seasons ago. He pitched then 15th and final inning in the 1967 game when the Nationals won 2-1 in the longest game in All-Star history.

Carlton and Koosman are two-timers on the squad and both appeared briefly in the 1968 game. Carlton pitched one inning and Koosman a third of an inning as the Nationals won at Houston 1-0.

Rioting at Londonderry Continues

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — Sporadic violence was reported in Londonderry and Belfast during the night, following large-scale rioting between Roman Catholics and Protestants during the weekend.

The casualty toll rose to one killed and 99 injured in the three days of violence.

Fire bombs were hurled at two buildings and a truck in Londonderry, and police used water cannon to drive roaming youths off the streets.

Eleven civilians and a police officer were injured in several street battles.

In Belfast, the capital, a blazing wooden barricade was thrown up across Hooker Street, which separates the Catholic and Protestant communities. A house was burned to the ground in a nearby predominantly Catholic area, but the occupants were reported away on vacation.

A 70-year-old retired farmer, Francis McCluskey, died Monday in the town of Dungiven of injuries suffered in a riot Sunday night.

The rioting began Saturday night after the traditional march of the Protestant Orange Order celebrating the Protestant victory over the Catholics at the Battle of the Boyne nearly 300 years ago.

The centuries-old hatred between the two factions has intensified since civil rights groups began a campaign last October to protest discrimination against Catholics in jobs, housing and voting practices.

Memphis Trips Travels by 4 to 0

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bob Johnson pitched the Memphis Blues to a 4-0 decision over Arkansas in Texas League baseball Monday night.

The decision, Johnson's fourth shutout of the season, gave the right-hander a 6-1 record.

He was charged with three wild pitches, but struck out eight and allowed seven scattered hits.

The Blues got three runs in the second inning on a walk to Ken Singleton, a passed ball, a single by Leroy Stanton and a two-run homer by Ted Martinez.

That pinned the loss on Traveler pitcher Ramon Hernandez. Martinez singled home Stanton with the last run of the game in the fourth inning after Stanton had doubled.

In other games, El Paso edged Dallas-Fort Worth 11-10, Shreveport got by San Antonio 1-0, Albuquerque trounced Amarillo 12-6.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Asked once about his father's profession, the young son of an Apollo astronaut replied that "daddy drives a truck in a sewer."

Another astronaut announced that her father was "up there in the sky flying around in a big, pink balloon."

With disarming disinterest, the astronauts' children somehow usually remain happily oblivious to the whole space flight business.

But this is not the case with most of the children of the moon-bound Apollo 11 astronauts.

Moonship pilot Edwin Aldrin Jr. says his sons, Michael, 13, and Andrew, 11, and daughter, Janice, 12 next month, "all of a sudden realize their father is involved in this endeavor of national importance."

He added, however: "I don't have a tremendous amount of opportunity to sit down and discuss things with the children. We find that just to be able to locate them is an event around the house."

"They're extremely independent. We do try to have family get-togethers whenever we can."

Neil Armstrong, the Apollo 11 commander, says sons Eric, 12, and Mark, 6, "are very enthusiastic" about the moon flight,

'Brown Bag' Practice Is Still Illegal

By PETE YOUNG
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — They're still there, lurking the hollows of beer taverns and night spots throughout Arkansas. They just don't say as much as they did before the recent legislative session.

Activities of Alcoholic Beverage Control's agents prior to the recent session were extensively publicized. They were busy raiding clubs that were illegally selling mixed drinks.

And the practice of brown-bagging was prosecuted, also. All this was interpreted at the time as a push by the ABC Board to gain passage of a mixed drink bill.

The 1969 General Assembly complied.

But, says ABC Director Joe Gaspard, the agents are still there and they are still prosecuting brown-baggers and establishments violating the state's new mixed drink law.

Brown-bagging is against the law, Gaspard said. That practice is where a customer takes his own bottle, usually in a brown paper bag, into a restaurant or any public establishment, and mixes his own drink.

Last Saturday night, for example, he said, ABC agents arrested a number of bootleggers in several counties, and found a private club, already selling mixed drinks to the public.

"As far as our enforcement efforts are concerned, we've actually increased our activity," Gaspard said, "with particular emphasis on places where the public rejected the sale of mixed drinks."

Sale of mixed drinks in hotels and restaurants was rejected as West Memphis, Blytheville, Fort Smith and Texarkana. It was approved at Eureka Springs, Little Rock, Pulaski County and Garland County.

Chartered private clubs with permits also can sell mixed drinks, even in dry counties.

In areas that rejected the sale of mixed drinks, Gaspard said, "We feel the people have spoken and we intend to carry out their wishes."

Gaspard also said that the hefty crackdown on the illegal sale of liquor last winter "got the word around" that the ABC department meant business in enforcing "all of the state's liquor laws."

"I don't think it takes a so-called 'crackdown' now but rather a maintenance program to make sure they (private clubs and public taverns) are conforming to the law," Gaspard said.

"It was a matter last fall of getting the liquor situation under control," the ABC director said. "And I think we have the situation under control now — thus the maintenance situation."

Gaspard also said the department had some new agents in person by the club operators. He said this allowed his department to keep an even closer watch on the mixed drink situation.

Fear Blast From Dust of Moon

LONDON (AP) — A former U.S. space official says there is a remote possibility that lunar dust clinging to the garments of astronauts Edwin Aldrin Jr. and Neil Armstrong could explode or ignite once they re-enter their lunar module after walking on the moon's surface.

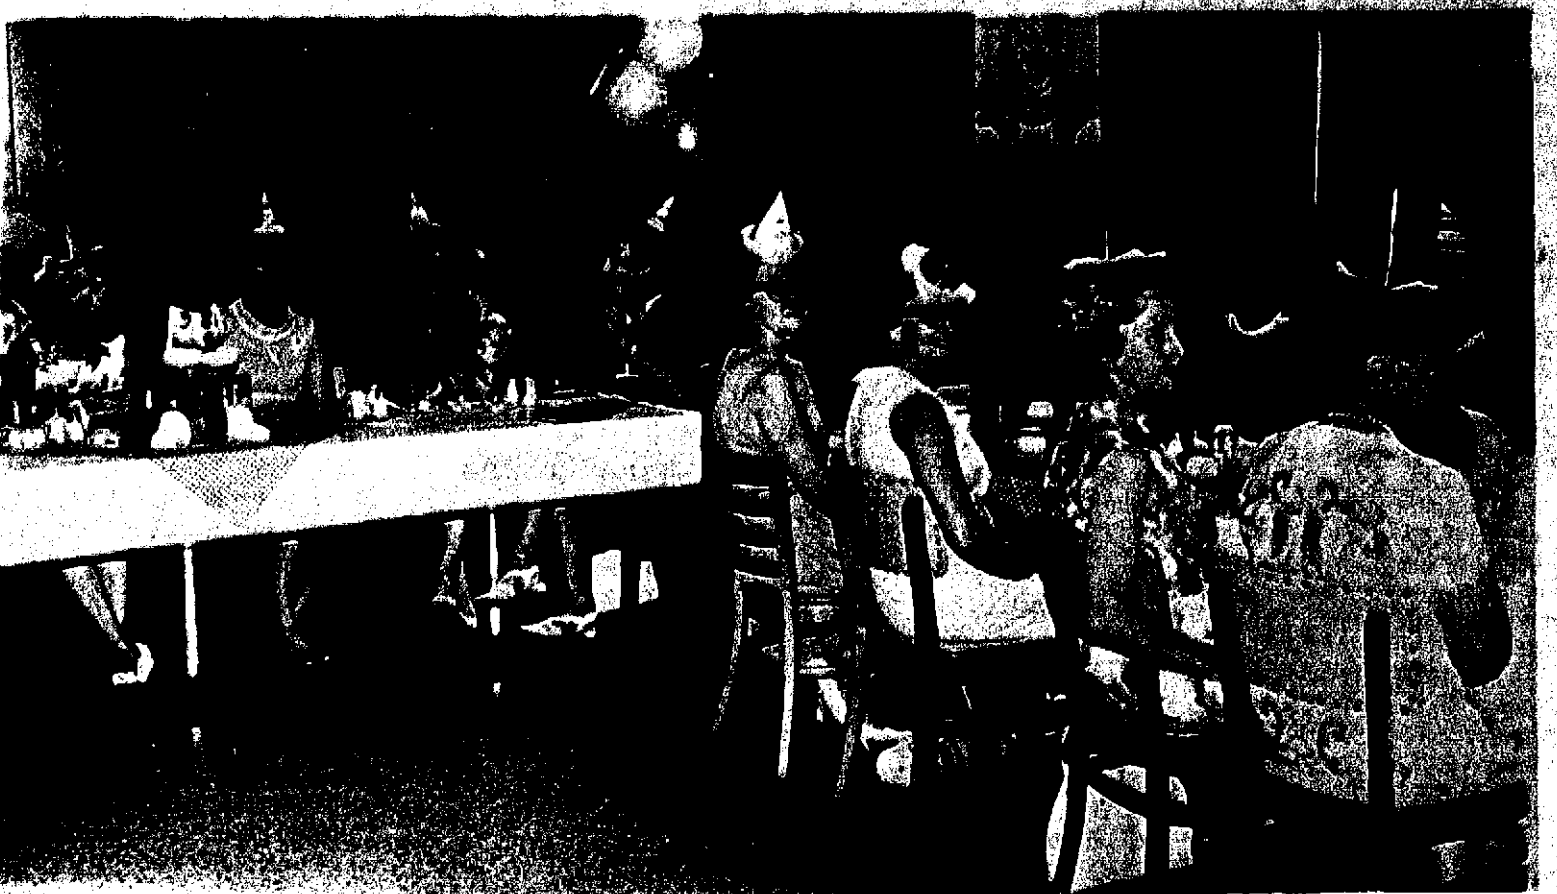

"This is one danger that's never mentioned publicly by NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration) officials," Paul Haney, former director of public affairs for the American space agency, said during an interview on British television Monday night.

"Scientists think it possible that eons ago the moon dust may have contained oxygen. When exposed to the super-charged oxygen atmosphere inside the moonship, the dust may begin to glow and give off heat."

Haney, who will report the U.S. moon shot as a commentator for British television, said it is not known how effective the fire extinguishers aboard the lunar module would be if there were such trouble.

Bond on Contempt Case Set

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Eddie Tate, jailed for what was called making a face at a judge, is free today on $500 bond with a chance to challenge the legality of his confinement.

Bond was posted and Tate freed late Monday, hours after the state Supreme Court ordered that bond be set and Tate freed if he posted the $500.

The high court's action also was conditioned on the stipulation that Tate diligently pursue a review of a Circuit Court's denial of petitions filed for him.

Circuit Court Judge Elmo Taylor of Searcy, presiding over the circuit that includes Forrest City, denied petitions for Tate last week.

One petition asked that bond be set. The other, a writ of certiorari, asked that the record of Municipal Court proceedings be summoned up for a review.

The Municipal Court action was what sent Tate to jail July 7. Judge O. H. Hargraves fined Tate $50 and sentenced him to 10 days in jail, the maximum penalty, for allegedly making a face at him in court June 30. The charge was contempt of court.

The alleged "face" at Hargraves apparently was part of a sequence of actions which authorities described as "a jerking of the head, a frown, and a bunny hop" by Tate in the court.

Attorneys for Tate contend that his actions were not contemptuous and were not designed to be. However, their effort for a review of the facts of the case was thwarted by lower court holdings that such convictions are not subject to review.

The state Supreme Court held otherwise, despite an attorney general's office contention that the action would "set a precedent for review of Municipal Court contempt convictions directly by the Supreme Court."

Tate is a member of a group called the Invaders, which has been described as a black militant group based at Memphis. He has been in Forrest City to help Negroes protest what they call discrimination in employment, treatment in the courts, and elsewhere.

club year and outlined the activities planned. Program chairman Jack Beatty explained the program assignments and sought everyone's co-operation in carrying them out.

A financial report was presented by treasurer Webb Laseter, which showed that all obligations were being met. Secretary B.N. Holt told of his duties and asked that news for the club bulletin be directed to him.

John Blundell of Texarkana was a visiting Rotarian, and Todd Holt of Dayton, O., was a guest.

The Greatest Show on Earth, complete with all kinds of animals, got underway at the Diamond Thursday, July 10 for the monthly dinner meeting of the Hope B & PW Club. The ringmaster, LaVeta Mouser, and her Clown Committee, Mabel Ward, Pat House, Veloro Bright, Opal Hervey, Belle Mudgett, Odell Collier, and Margie Vickers, all had faces of the circus as they led 40 participants in an evening of fun.

Balloons, party hats, crepe paper streamers, appropriate background music, and clever sketches of animals on the wall made a festive setting for the jokes, games, and sideshows offered for the price of one cent.

Bags of peanuts were priced higher, five cents. When a game called Clown was played, crackerjacks and bubble gum were given as prizes. Two real clowns on wheels (a tricycle and a wagon) showed hidden talents in the joke department, but their names are being withheld.

After a picnic supper was served at gaily decorated tables, the club president, Mary Andrews, conducted a short business meeting and welcomed the guests for the evening: Lois Purcell, Abbie Breeding, Loretta Bright, Phyllis Dillard, Verlaine Jones, Josephine Pressley of Muscle Shoals, Ala., and Eunice Wilson of Augusta.

 HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
 The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

 1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

 The opposition line:
 1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

 1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

 1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

 1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by
 Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
 Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

 1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
 — but both papers suspended in 1922.

 1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
 Hempstead County Review.

 1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

 1929 — C. E. Palmer and A.H.
 Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

 1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

 1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

As bridge writers have pointed out since the play of the first dummy, the streets of London are filled with impoverished gentlemen who owe their plight to the failure to pull trumps. A somewhat different situation applies in the New York bread lines. Their members pulled trumps too soon.

South wins with dummy's ace of spades and is faced with a problem: Should he go right after trumps or try to discard a club on the third good spade? He has to lose three aces. If West holds the ace of clubs, South may lose two club tricks. He can guard against that by going right after a club discard. The basic mathematics are that spades will break 4-3 just over 62 per cent of the time while West will hold the club ace just 50 per cent of the time.

There are complications in other suits. For instance: If West holds all three missing aces (a 12½ per cent chance), South can go after trumps with no fear that a club will be led through his king. East can never gain the lead.

This brings the trump play up to a 62½ per cent chance. There also is a chance that if West holds the aces of hearts and clubs, he will continue spades or even play his ace of clubs after getting in with the ace of hearts. This also favors the immediate trump play.

If you take a good look at all four hands, you will see the winning play is to try the spades right away and that is the play we recommend. The first reason is that if spades do break 5-2 and West holds the long spades, South will overruff. The second, although a very far-fetched reason, is that maybe East or West started with two spades and the singleton ace of hearts.

Instead of bidding three hearts, your partner bids three clubs over your two spades. What do you do now?

 punishable offense for a man to deliberately—and noisily—crack pecan nuts during a service. Even a minister was found guilty of public indecency for using profane language in the course of his sermon. Furthermore, the law will take a hand if there is merely a question of property rights to be settled.

Suppose a church organization splits into two warring factions, each of which claims ownership of church property. A court will ordinarily take the responsibility of deciding which faction is right, so long as it can do so without getting involved in doctrinal issues. "Much as such dissensions among the members of a religious society should be regretted," said the United States Supreme Court, "the courts when called upon must perform their functions as in other cases."

NEA Service Replies to Protest on Barber

The Star has received the following reply from News-Enterprise Association, its national feature syndicate, regarding the newspaper's editorial and letter of June 23 protesting the unfairness of a syndicated sports dispatch regarding Miller Barber, Texarkana golfing great:

Editor The Star: Your reaction to the feature story by Lee Mueller on Miller Barber has been called to my attention. I was surprised by your reference to it as "Vicious Personal Attack" since Lee is not the type of writer who deals in vituperative descriptions of people.

Especially in this case, I feel the reaction is unfortunate because Miller Barber happens to be a fine man, an interesting personality and a wonderful competitor. I happen to know him personally from my own experiences in following golf and have always found him most amiable and cooperative. It was not and is not our intention to abuse people like him, and I am sorry that you found Lee's story offensive.

I have called your criticism to his attention. I trust that you understand that he was attempting a tongue-in-cheek narrative of a bachelor's life on the golf tour and did not mean to disparage Miller as a person. (Incidentally, besides being a fine golfer, Miller was also a good football player at the University of Arkansas.)

I do appreciate your bringing the reactions of the people in your area to the story to my attention because it does help us in establishing writing guide lines and in providing a better service for our clients. I also appreciate your view point as a longtime user of NEA material and I trust this will in no way influence your opinions about our overall product.

On a personal note, since you had mentioned that you spent several years in El Dorado, I should inform you that my wife is from that city, and I have been there myself visiting her relatives. Sincerely,

Sharks Annoy Frogmen

ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) — Frogmen from the aircraft carrier Hornet, practicing for the recovery of the Apollo 11 command module when it returns to earth from its historic moon mission, were forced from the waters of the Pacific Ocean by sharks.

The frogmen were attempting to attach a flotation collar to a mockup of the spacecraft when the inquisitive sharks appeared Monday. The Navy swimmers climbed into a rubber life raft until the sharks, apparently satisfied with their inspection of man's doings, departed.

12 Sites for Vocational Schools

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Vocational Education has designated 12 sites for future state vocational-technical schools, with five of them given priority because they will be eligible for a high percentage of federal matching funds.

The five choice spots went to Springdale, Malvern, Randolph, and Lawrence counties, Melbourne and McGeehe.

The other designated sites were Batesville, Crossett, De Queen, DeWitt, Mena, Newport and Pulaski County.

State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said major factors in the board's decision were the availability of federal matching funds and the proximity of the proposed sites to existing vo-tech schools.

All the locations are tentative, subject to the suitability of each site and the fulfillment of agreements on which the board's selection of sites was conditioned.

Undeclared War Raging in Caribbean

By RAUL BARNICA
TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — A new undeclared war raged in Central America today between Honduras and El Salvador, with each accusing the other of aggression. The Organization of American States ordered a peace team down from Washington.

Honduran authorities charged that Salvadorean ground forces invaded Honduras Monday at two points, and that Salvadorean planes made widespread attacks. Unconfirmed reports said seven cities were bombed.

A dispatch from Guatemala, which borders both countries, said Salvadorean officials reported some 1,000 Honduran troops had crossed the border into El Salvador. Sources in Tegucigalpa said the Honduran air force's World War II Corsairs also crossed the frontier and ran into heavy anti-aircraft fire.

President Fidel Sanchez gherandez of El Salvador held a three-hour emergency meeting with his cabinet, then announced he had ordered his army "to exercise the right of legitimate defense."

A government statement, broadcast from San Salvador, said the Salvadorean forces had been ordered into action after "continuous attacks by Honduran troops on the Salvadorean frontier, violation of air space and the knowledge that Honduran troops and air force personnel had mobilized in Santa Rosa de Lima for a large-scale attack."

Two Honduran towns reportedly suffered a "high" number of casualties from the Salvadorean air attacks. They were Ocoatepeque, a town of about 5,000 and Santa de Copan, with 9,500 residents.

The Honduran government said Salvadorean ground troops invaded the country at Amatillo from the south and Poy from the west. The government said Salvadorean planes dropped bombs on Honduran army and air force installations near the international airport in Tegucigalpa.

Acting Gets Out of Date in 10 Years, Says Claire Bloom

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Your life is its own epitaph," said Claire Bloom.

"Your work isn't. I'm afraid acting has no longevity. It ages and gets out of date in 10 years. It's like an echo you leave with other people. When they die, then you're dead."

This was a surprising admission from the British-born performer, to whom acting has been a lifelong passion since at the age of five she quit playing with dolls because she preferred to recite Shakespeare, but trying to figure out Claire is like trying to work a Chinese puzzle blindfolded. She has been an enigma since she played Ophelia as a teen-ager and at 20 startled

Red Moon Ship Flight Is Slowed

by FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
JODRELL BANK, England (AP) — The Soviet moonship Luna 15 is traveling at a slower speed than usual and will take longer than the usual 3½ days to reach the area of the moon, the director of the astronomy station here reported today.

"There is every indication that it may be attempting something new," said Sir Bernard Lovell. He said this could be the recovery of moon rock.

Lovell spoke with newsmen after his giant radio telescope, which has been tracking Luna 15, had discovered the moonship was on a trajectory different from other unmanned Soviet moon flights.

There has been widespread speculation in Moscow that the Soviets may be attempting to steal some of the glory from the planned U.S. manned landing on the moon by bringing back some moon rock first.

Luna 15 had been expected to reach the vicinity of the moon Wednesday, but Lovell said after studying the latest signals picked up from the Soviet spacecraft that it would not reach the moon's vicinity until Thursday morning.

Lovell did not elaborate but scientists described his reasoning this way:

Luna 15 is moving more slowly toward the moon, possibly because it is heavier, from carrying new equipment for a new mission. A slower approach to the moon would save fuel needed to brake the spacecraft for landing and reserve fuel needed for re-launching it for the return trip.

Emmet Church Is Having Revival

Emmet United Methodist Church is sponsoring a revival July 20-25. Services will be held each evening at 7:30 p.m. Evangelist will be Rev. Gerald Fincher, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Prescott. Pastor of the Emmet church is Calvin L. Miller.

Life Goes on Even Way as the Cape Readies Moon Shot

By SAUL PETT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

The kids splashed in the tepid pool at the Holiday Inn while mother read about "what to do and see" in this port of discovery, and a diaper service truck rolled through the still, hot air of a housing subdivision called "Orange Blossom Heights," which is scarcely above sea level, and a few miles away a man lay dying of cancer, and in a shop called "Marcene Modes," a lady cautiously fingered a dress, as if holding back an emotional commitment, and a gray-haired man emptied the garbage at the "Celestial Trailer Courts," and in a neat white bed another man lay in a tortured world of his delusion, 238,857 miles from the Sea of Tranquility.

Tomorrow, men will be going to the moon.

At a dock at Port Canaveral, a black, sinister-looking British submarine called the Renown waited to take on a cargo of Polaris nuclear missiles, and a few miles south a blond bronzed young god browsed, with sensual touch, through the merchandise at "Soul Surfboards," and men drank at the "Ali Bar" and "The Satellite Lounge," it being too early for the topless girls at the "Missile Lounge," and in the black ghetto of Cocoa, Fla., an old man stared lordlessly through the window of the tiny "Working Man Friend Cafe" on Magnolia Street. Tomorrow, men will be going to the moon.

At one of the many cocktail parties up and down the beach, somebody wondered aloud why, when you have three guys named Neil, Mike and Buzz, do you need an American flag, and out in the Atlantic Ocean, a white-haired lady and her dog bathed together in the mild, tepid surf, the tide rising relentlessly in response to a force a quarter of a million miles away, and in the hot sun a retired couple carried their groceries out of a "Utotem" store and on "Satellite Beach," just south of Patrick Air Force Base, among the palm trees and the bungalows, the trailer boats in the driveways and the basketball backboards over the two-car garages, a woman tried not to worry about her husband in Vietnam. Tomorrow, men will

5 Planeloads From Europe Reach Launch

NEW YORK (AP) — Five planeloads of Europeans, taking part in a special "moon shot" tour, have arrived here en route to Florida and Wednesday's blast-off of Apollo 11.

One of the tourists, M. E. Bendreham, a retired French postal inspector, said Monday: "I want to see the launch because it's such a sensational event."

Arranged by Trans World Airlines, a French travel agency and five European newspapers, the tour drew passengers from Britain, France, Germany, Spain and Switzerland.

March on Launching Threatened

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Marches, prayer vigils and picketing by poor families, some riding mule-drawn wagons, are planned by Negro leader protesting hunger problems during the Apollo 11 moon voyage.

Protest activities were scheduled to start today, a spokesman said, climaxing Wednesday with the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy's conducting a demonstration at the moment of the launch.

Abernathy, president of Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), says the Cape Kennedy demonstrations are part of the Poor People's Campaign launched last year by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before his assassination.

Hosea Williams, SCLC's "hunger phase" coordinator, said at a Monday news conference the demonstrations are not in opposition to space exploration or the moon first. "Our purpose for being here is to interest America's inability to choose necessities," he added.

be going to the moon.

At the "Wooden Nickel Saloon," a man noted that all the government people coming here represent the biggest exodus on brass from Washington since the gentlemen and their ladies rode buggies out to witness the first Battle of Bull Run. And from the bridges over the Indian River, white men and black men fished for trout and sheephead in water partially polluted by the dredging for fill to build the space center, and a little farther west in Brevard County, which has the highest average family income in Florida ($10,000), Mrs. Lucille Ward, a Negro lady, wondered what to fix for dinner for her family of seven, a choice usually among collard greens and neckbones, or pig tails or hog maw; with a total monthly income of $152, the Ward family was officially included among the 7,000 ill-fed people in the county. Tomorrow, men will be going to the moon.

Goddard Father of Rocketry

By HARRY F. GUGGENHEIM
President and Editor in Chief, Newsday

Distributed by The Associated Press

Our thoughts are crowded this week with the prospect of man's greatest space adventure, the courage of the astronauts who will make it, and the skill of thousands of scientists and engineers, when I first heard of him. In 1898, when he was 16.

He devoted himself to that problem with prodigious energy for the rest of his life. It would cost him isolation, ridicule, and eventually years of his life. "God pity a one-dream man," he wrote as he began his work.

Goddard began to experiment with small rockets as early as 1908. Eleven years later he published a paper entitled "A Method of Reaching Extreme Altitudes," which espoused the theory that rocket power could lift a large payload to great heights if the rocket were designed to use its fuel effectively.

He was careful to mention the possibility of lunar landings only casually, lest he frighten away potential sponsors. But despite his almost indifferent mention of the subject, the press seized upon the paper with gross exaggeration. The headlines were all similar:

"Modern Jules Verne Givents Rocket to Reach Moon"

"Aim To Reach Moon With New Rocket"

"Savant Invents Rocket Which Will Hit Moon"

None of this was so, of course, but the effects were to cause Goddard considerable humiliation.

Goddard was embarrassed—he had intended to stress only the scientific aspects of his research—but he was not dismayed.

The annual Superintendents Seminar sponsored by the Mental Retardation Staff Development Project at the University of Alabama in Birmingham is being held in Conway July 14-16. Its purpose is to update superintendents of institutions for the mentally retarded on what is going on in other parts of the nation in the field of Mental Retardation.

Eight Hope students are enrolled in the third annual Upward Bound program at Southern State College this year. The program includes 45 tenth and eleventh grade students from 15 high schools throughout six counties and is designed as a pre-college program to generate skills and motivation necessary for success in education beyond the high school level.

Local students involved in the effort are Lanette Arrington, Arlis Arterbury, Benny Gorz, William Laramore, Henry Lee McKenney, Gerald Purifoy, Rhonda Carol Rook, and Judy York.

Tom Simmons of Calvary Baptist Church in Hope will be the featured speaker for an area-wide youth rally at Kieth Field in Stamps Friday. Sponsored by Stamps First Baptist Church, the rally kicks off a week of preparation for a youth-led revival July 31-August 3.

The Century Bible Class of the Hope Methodist Church and the Men's Bible Class of the Arkadelphia Church will entertain the winner of a recent fellowship and membership promotion, the Nashville Men's Class, Sunday afternoon, July 20, at 2:30 p.m. in the Hope church. Bishop Paul V. Galloway will make the principal address. The program is open to everyone.

Collins Alone Won't See Show

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

— Astronaut Michael Collins has scored a point for television reruns.

In response to a question at a news conference here Monday night, Collins said he had only one complaint about remaining in the Apollo 11 command module while his fellow astronauts, Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin Jr., descend to the moon surface in the lunar module.

"I'd like to point out to those of you in the television business," Collins said, "that I have no TV set on board and therefore I'm going to be one of the few Americans who is not going to be able to see the EVA (extra-vehicular activity, or moon walk)."

"So, I'd like you to save the tapes for me, please. I'd like to look at them after the flight."

Carroll Co. Sheriff Shot to Death

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Sheriff James Orval Bishop, 50, was dead on arrival at a Harrison hospital Monday night after being shot while investigating a family fight in Green Forest.

Two other persons also were wounded, one of them five times.

Deputy Ben Price of Berryville said Bishop, serving his third term as sheriff of Carroll County, was shot in the left side of the stomach with a .45-caliber pistol.

The sheriff's body was found on the yard outside an apartment he had visited to investigate a report of a family argument, Price said.

Blastoff for Moon 8:32 Wednesday

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The three astronauts are ready to fly to the moon. They say they are not afraid. They are confident their spaceship and training will see them through.

The rocket that will vanish this morning is receiving the final servicing for liftoff at 9:32 a.m. EDT Wednesday, 8:32 a.m. Hope time. The weather outlook is good.

"The three of us have no fear of launching out on this expedition," said Neil A. Armstrong, set to become earth's first moon senger on the moon. "I'm sure that American ingenuity and American craftsmanship have given us the best equipment that can be made available. We are happy to be ready to fly."

Armstrong appeared at a televised news conference Monday night with Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., who will follow him down the steps of their moon landing craft, and Michael Collins, who will orbit overhead awaiting their return.

Not far away, bathed in floodlights like the pampered star it is, stood the 363-foot tall Saturn 5 rocket that will propel them onto the journey dreamed of perhaps since man first walked the earth.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and former President Lyndon B. Johnson were to be among the million persons expected at this moonport to see the launching.

In the lunar module, which is nestled beneath the command and service modules, is a disc the size of a half dollar inscribed with messages of congratulations and goodwill from 73 nations. The microfilm will be implanted in the powdery moon soil.

Russia, which sent a mystery satellite to the moon—with arrival timed nearly to coincide with America's historic launch—delivered no message. Some experts saw in their unmanned vehicle an attempt to pluck soil samples from the moon and return them before Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins can eliver theirs eight days after liftoff.

Asked if he would be disappointed if the Russians first snared lunar dirt, Aldrin said: "I'm sure all of us would. We'd like to return with everything we set out to do on this flight."

What they set out to do was proposed by President John F. Kennedy in 1961: "I believe that this nation should commit itself to achieving the goal before this decade is out, of landing a man on the moon and returning him safely to earth."

Their precise flight plan calls for going into moon orbit at 126 p.m. EDT Saturday, undocking the lunar lander from the mother ship 24 hours later, and touching down on the moon at 4:19 p.m. Sunday.

But they'll have to wait before making their self-telvised imprint on the moon. First they must check the systems to propel them back up to the orbiting mother ship with Collins aboard, then try to sleep for four hours.

Man's first step on the moon is set for 2:17 a.m. next Monday.

Their only hope of rescue is Collins, coming overhead every two hours in the immutable laws of space travel. He has the ability, at a tremendous cost in valuable fuel, of coming down within 9 miles of the surface.

Certifying Deadline for ASC July 20

Cotton and feed grain farmers are again reminded of their obligations to certify their program acreages to the county ASCS office no later than July 20.

Producers failing to certify by July 20 will lose all farm payments paid or payable, and in the case of cotton, they will be considered out of compliance and could be subject to marketing quota penalties.

All farmers participating in either the cotton or feed grain programs are urged to contact the ASCS county office no later than Friday, July 18. The office will not be open on July 20.

Minuteman Chief Held on Big Bond

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Robert B. De Pugh, leader of the militant right-wing Minuteman organization who was arrested by FBI agents near a desert hideout.

De Pugh and an aide, Walter Peyson, were lodged in the Albuquerque city jail, charged in conspiracy to rob four banks in the Seattle, Wash., area. Peyson's bond was set at $20,000.

De Pugh, 46, and Peyson, 27, were arrested Sunday before U.S. Commissioner Robert McCoy, who set bond.

The FBI said De Pugh and Peyson were heavily armed when arrested Saturday night on a deserted stretch of U.S. 85 near an isolated house in the New Mexico desert south of Truth or Consequences where they had been hiding.

McCoy said the pair asked at their arraignment to be allowed to defer a decision on whether to waive a removal hearing to the western Washington federal judicial district. He said they in-thing," he says as he buffs away in his South Philadelphia shop. "If not, I sleep, and that's no good. I need the exercise."

Raccloppa, a stoutish, slightly bent six-footer with still a lot of his own hair, has been polishing shoes for 65 years—and boasts he still delivers the best shine in town.

Before he started shining shoes, he was, he says proudly, "a pick and shovel man" in Atlantic City, N.J.

Raccloppa came to America from Italy early in 1880, and never learned to read or write English. He's been a widower 17 years and three of his five children are still living.

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 859

An Ordinance Prohibiting Certain Uses of Water from the City Water Supply System Not Essential to the Public Well-Being; Authorizing the City to Terminate Water Service for Violation; Prescribing Penalties for the Violation of Provisions; Declaring the Presence of an Emergency; and for Other Purposes.

WHEREAS, an emergency exists in the City of Hope, Arkansas because of an impending shortage of water due to a prolonged drought; and

WHEREAS, the level at the tanks supplying water to the City is at a dangerously low level, and the water reservoir beneath the City may be lowered perilously; and

WHEREAS, it is imperative to the public well-being that certain uses of water, not essential to the health, welfare and safety of the City be restricted;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CITY OF HOPE, ARKANSAS:

SECTION I: Short Title. This ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the "Water Conservation Ordinance of the City of Hope, Arkansas."

SECTION II: Definitions. For the purposes of this ordinance the following terms, phrases, words, and their derivation shall have the meaning given herein. When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the plural number include the singular number, and words in the singular number include the plural number. The word "shall" is always mandatory and not merely directory.

(1) "City" is the City of Hope, Arkansas.

(2) "Person" is any person, firm, partnership, association, corporation, company or organization of any kind.

(3) "Water" is water from the City Water Supply System.

SECTION III: Application of Regulations. The provisions of this ordinance shall apply to all persons using water both in and outside the City, and regardless of whether any person using water shall have a contract for water service with the City.

SECTION IV: Certain Uses Prohibited. During a period of emergency the use and withdrawal of water by any person for the following purposes is hereby prohibited.

(1) Watering Yards. The sprinkling, watering or irrigating of shrubbery, trees, lawns, grass, ground covers, plants, vines, gardens, vegetables, flowers, or any other vegetation.

(2) Washing Mobile Equipment. The washing of automobiles, trucks, trailers, trailer-houses, railroad cars, or any other type of mobile equipment.

(3) Cleaning Outdoor Surfaces. The washing of sidewalks, driveways, filling station aprons, porches and other outdoor surfaces.

(4) Cleaning Buildings. The washing of the outside of dwellings; the washing of the inside and outside of office buildings.

(5) Cleaning Equipment and Machinery. The washing and cleaning of any business or industrial equipment and machinery.

(6) Ornamental Fountains. The operation of any ornamental fountain or other structure making a similar use of water.

(7) Swimming Pools. Swimming and wading pools not employing a filter and recirculating system.

(8) Escape Through Defective Plumbing. The escape of water through defective plumbing, which shall mean the knowing permission for defective plumbing to remain out of repair.

SECTION V: Exception to Maintain Sanitation. The City Health Officer shall have the authority to permit a reasonable use of water in any case necessary to maintain adequate health and sanitation standards.

SECTION VI: The Mayor on recommendation of the City Manager may proclaim the beginning and end of each and every period of emergency under this ordinance, and notice thereof shall be given to the public; and, upon so doing, the provisions of this ordinance shall be in full force and effective during such period; provided, however, that any proclamation by the Mayor shall be subject to review by the City Board of Directors at its next regular or special meeting and any person wishing to do so may appear before said Board and be heard on the matter including, but not limited to, the actions of the Mayor, City Manager and City Health Officer under this ordinance.

SECTION VII: Enforcement.

(a) Police Officers Enforce. Every police officer of the City shall, in connection with his du-

Hearing Set in Bauxite Bank Holdup

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Joseph Eddie Broadway, 27, of Bauxite, who is charged with robbing the Bauxite Branch of the Benton State Bank Jan. 18, is scheduled for a hearing here today.

Broadway was arrested late Saturday after he reportedly told officers he was wanted for bankrobbery and jailbreak in Arkansas.

Authorities said Broadway approached two officers inside the bus station and asked for lodging. Upon questioning he admitted being wanted by the FBI and Arkansas authorities, police said.

Police said Broadway probably would be returned to Arkansas this week.

Broadway, who has been convicted of robbing the Bauxite bank twice and burglarizing it once, escaped from Tucker Prison Farm last Dec. 18. He was serving a 20-year sentence.

Long Hair on Boys Pose a Pool Problem

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — In the long and short of it, the city-owned swimming pool in suburban Bedford came up with the problems in its first week of operation.

Long hair on boys brought a rule requiring those with hair as long as girls to wear bathing caps. An official said the pool filter was being clogged by long hair from boys, and girls "complained that they had to wear caps even though some of them had shorter hair than boys."

Earlier a city councilman objected to the short bikinis on girl lifeguards, saying the girls wouldn't know whether to save their bikinis or a person drowning.

ties imposed by law, diligently enforce the provisions of this ordinance.

(b) Discontinuance of Service. The Mayor shall have the authority to enforce the provisions of the ordinance by the discontinuance of water service in the event of violation hereof.

(c) Other Penalty. The violation of this ordinance shall constitute a public offense and, upon conviction, any person guilty of such violation shall be fined in a sum not less than $5.00 nor more than $100.00.

SECTION VIII: Finding of Emergency. This ordinance is passed as an emergency measure, and the Council does, by the vote by which the ordinance is passed, hereby declare that an emergency exists, which makes it imperative that this ordinance should become effective forthwith in order that the public health, welfare and safety might most effectively be provided for.

ADOPTED AND SIGNED THIS 8th day of July, 1969,

FRANK DOUGLAS, Mayor

ATTEST: FRANCES REYNERSON, City Clerk

Although the moon is one of the larger planetary satellites in the solar system, its diameter of 2,160 miles is less than the distance between the U.S. Atlantic and Pacific coasts. With a map of the United States superimposed on the moon, the Apollo 11 landing site, at the western edge of the Sea of Tranquility, coincides with Kansas City.

Page Twelve GODDARD (from page one)

tered. He continued his experiments, without public attention, until on March 16, 1926, launched the first liquid propelled rocket. It rose 41 feet and traveled 184 feet in 2.5 seconds.

The flight was so inconspicuous, however, that no one paid any attention. Goddard himself considered it a feat equivalent to the Wrights' first airplane flight.

Three years later, on July 17, 1929—almost 40 years to the day before Apollo 11 would take off for the moon—Goddard tried again. This time he had a model 11½ feet long, 26 inches wide, and weighing 35 pounds when empty. It rose 20 feet above the 60-foot launching tower, turned right, rose another 10 feet and then crashed to earth 171 feet away.

Goddard instantly proclaimed the experiment a success. But as he and his associates were surveying the scene, according to his biographer, Milton Lehman, "they heard the shriek of a siren. They looked up to see a police patrol car, two ambulances and a convoy of automobiles stopping in Aunt Effie's farmyard. Two policemen, perhaps expecting catastrophe, inspected the rural scene, saw the steel tower, and asked questions. . . . Neighbors were saying that an airplane had crashed and exploded."

Goddard tried to quiet the policemen's fears, but two reporters who had come with them were already inspecting the charred field.

"The moon-rocket man," one reporter said, "How close did you get this time?"

Again Goddard was adrift in a sea of publicity. Lehman wrote: "He wanted to tell the public that, yes, the rocket would be man's great prime mover. Yes, it would eventually reach the moon. But the public kept asking the same old question. When would it happen? When will your rocket do what you say it can do?"

But, ironically, that very publicity was to give him a new lease.

At that time, Charles A. Lindbergh was a guest in my home in Port Washington, N.Y. I had met him when he came to Roosevelt Field for his historic flight to Paris (from which, if anticipated, he would never return). He did get back, much to my surprise, and subsequently became a consultant for the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics. This was a fund created by my father to promote research and education in aeronautics and to help encourage flying as a means of transportation. I was then the fund's administrator.

Lindbergh and I had talked on several occasions about the potential of space flight. He had often expressed the opinion that airplanes, confined as they were to the earth's atmosphere, would ultimately prove too "limited" for the full scope of man's aspirations. We had discussed rocketry for its potential in delivering large quantities of mail over great distances.

On this particular day, we were discussing the work of the fund, when Mrs. Guggenheim interrupted us to read aloud from the New York Times an item about a rocket exploding near Worcester, Mass., the day before. When she finished reading the fascinating account of the scientist and his problems with his neighbors, I suggested to Lindbergh that he visit this man Goddard in behalf of the fund and discuss his work. Lindbergh did call and Goddard, quite surprised, invited him to come to Worcester.

From this meeting, Lindbergh returned impressed by the scientist and his ideas. We agreed that support should be obtained to underwrite Goddard's experiments. Lindbergh made the case to my father Daniel, as I left to begin my duties as ambassador to Cuba. Daniel Guggenheim endorsed our proposals and agreed to provide the funds for a two-year period. After his death, the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation took up support of Goddard's work until 1941.

These grants made it possible for him to give up teaching and, for the first time, to devote his full energies to rocket research. They also enabled him to move from New England, where his neighbors regarded him as a nut, to Roswell, N.M., where he would have freedom, privacy and open space.

During the years that followed, I was able to observe the man and his work first hand. I was deeply touched by his modest, self-effacing manner, his cheerfulness, and his optimism.

By 1940, Goddard had built a rocket that was very similar to the German V2 missiles which were to assault London three years later. Goddard and I visited Washington to urge military leaders to consider the military potential of rockets, but they were not interested. It was not until the end of the war that the oversight was obvious. Questioned by Army officers about the devastating V2, a German scientist incredulously replied: "Why don't you ask your own Dr. Goddard?"

His investigations, as the American Rocket Society would say after his death, covered almost every principle involved in both the theory and practice of high-power rockets. Among his inventions are included the first liquid-fuel rocket, the first smokeless powered rocket, and the first practical automatic steering device for rockets. It is no wonder that the society would concede to Goddard the almost single-handed development of rocketry "from a vague dream to one of the most significant branches of modern engineering."

But it goes far beyond that. He left us more than inventions. He left an example of the extraordinary accomplishments that await the man who perseveres. He left a testimony to the power of one solitary individual to effect change and to transform the future.

And most of all, he left a vision.

I have thought of him often in these days of preparations for that "first step." When he died his work was generally unrecognized; now it is about to be fulfilled.

"How many more years I shall be able to work on the problem I do not know," Goddard wrote to H. G. Wells in 1932. "I hope as long as I live. There can be no thought of finishing—for aiming at the stars, both literally and figuratively, is a problem to occupy generations. So that no matter how much progress one makes, there is always the thrill of beginning."

Heat Wave Continues for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair and continued hot weather with afternoon thundershowers is expected in Arkansas through Wednesday, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today.

All temperatures should remain hot, ranging from 95-105 by early afternoon. Monday's showers brought some relief from the heat, but not before the temperature had again soared to past the 100-degree mark in most areas. The high Monday was 106 at Texarkana.

The moist and unstable air added to the intense heat was responsible for the widely scattered thundershowers Monday. These thundershowers produced small hail, gusty surface winds and brief but heavy downpours in central portions of the state. The state as a whole continues hot and parched, total rainfall in some sections is more than 10 inches below normal for this time of year.

The outlook for Thursday calls for slightly less chance of thundershower activity and continued fair and hot weather.

Low tonight is expected to be in the 70s. Overnight lows included 69 at Harrison, 70 at Fayetteville, 73 at El Dorado and Jonesboro, 75 at Fort Smith, Memphis, Pine Bluff and Texarkana and 76 at Little Rock.

One-tenth of an inch of rain was recorded at Fayetteville during the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. today.

During the period of afternoon thundershowers, gusty winds continued to do minor damage around the state. A trailer home was blown about 10 feet off its foundation east of Conway by high winds Monday.

Will Try to Halt Hike in Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy is calling in a second group of bankers in his attempt to cool the nation's growing inflation and head off the possibility of another interest rate increase.

Kennedy announced the chief executive officers of 25 major banks had been invited to meet with him Wednesday morning "to discuss inflation and related problems, including the current high level of interest rates."

A spokesman said the meeting would be similar to Kennedy's first session with the financial leaders. He and Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. met with two dozen representatives of the largest banks July 7.

The spokesman said the Wednesday meeting probably would complete Kennedy's talks with bankers. He has pledged to meet later with representatives of major corporations.

The two groups of bankers, Treasury said, represent more than 50 per cent of the nation's total commercial bank deposits.

A main purpose of the meetings has been to convince bankers—and the public—that the administration is serious about controlling inflation.

Evidence Challenged at Trial

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Court Judge Charles Light took under advisement Monday a motion to suppress some evidence in the first-degree murder trial of Ray Glover of Paragould.

The 36-year-old Glover went on trial Monday at Paragould in the death of Judy Evans of near Rector. The body of Miss Evans, 21, was found last March 1 in a burned car in a gravel pit near Paragould.

W. D. Howard of Jonesboro, Glover's attorney, asked Light to quash certain search warrants and to suppress evidence obtained through the use of them.

The warrants were issued last March 5 to Bill Mitchell and Charles Bolls of the State Police Criminal Investigation Division. They alleged at the time that they were seeking a rotating red light allegedly used to stop Miss Evans' car on a highway March 1.

Howard contended that the warrants were based on hearsay information from an unnamed informant, that there was insufficient information for issuance of the warrants, and that issuance of the warrants violated Glover's state constitutional rights.

Whimsical Letter to Astronauts

ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) — Of the thousands of letters from stamp collectors requesting Apollo 11 commemorative stamps from this recovery ship, one letter stands out.

The letter from Berlin contains several stamps and this message in German: "For helping me out, here are some stamps worth money to any stamp collector. Sell them and have a drink on me."

Ellington Song for Apollo 11

NEW YORK (AP) — Musician Duke Ellington says he is going to start and end his singing career with a self-composed song inspired by the forthcoming flight of Apollo 11. It's entitled "Moon Maiden."

Recorded by the 70-year-old bandleader here Monday, the song will be broadcast for the first time at 10 p.m. Sunday, when astronauts Edwin Aldrin and Neil Armstrong are expected to be resting on the lunar surface.

"It's a one-shot thing," Ellington said. "This is the end of my singing career."

An Ellington observation on the Apollo 11 moonshot itself: "I hope they will come back and say it's a very nice place to spend the summer."

Giant Plane Develops Wing Crack

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversial C5A super transport has suffered what could be its first major test failure—a wing cracking under pressures 22 per cent below the contract-specified level.

The Air Force disclosed Monday the wing cracked during ground static tests of a C5A airframe minus tail assembly at the Marietta, Ga., plant of the Lockheed Georgia Co.

The impact of the break on the over-all program, and why it occurred, is being assessed by the Air Force and company engineers. Completed models will continue test flights in the meantime.

The C5A—world's largest air transport—has been the focus of considerable criticism in Congress because of soaring expense.

Under original plans, the Air Force intended in 1965 to buy 120 models for $3.1 billion but that has escalated by $1.5 billion, according to official estimates.

In the face of the criticism, a major Pentagon argument has been that the plane has been meeting or exceeding virtually all contract specifications.

The 230-foot jet plane, capable of carrying tanks, helicopters, trucks and troops, recently made its first cross-country flight and appeared to be performing highly satisfactorily.

On Sunday, however, came the wing crack.

While the nose and tail were held down, a special testing forced the wings upward in a trial of their strength. Then the break occurred in a wing near the point where it joins the fuselage.

Specifically, the crack occurred under pressures amounting to 128 per cent of the design load limit, which is 738,000 pounds. The Air Force said the contract calls for the company to demonstrate that the airframe can withstand 150 per cent of the load limit.

Pickets Sue for an Injunction

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — A suit filed Monday in U.S. District Court at Helena seeks to prevent officials of Forrest City and St. Francis County from interfering with pickets and demonstrators.

The suit also asks that a 70-man deputy sheriff force be disbanded and that the courts in Forrest City and St. Francis County be ordered to tell defendants they have the right to be silent, have an attorney and receive a public trial.

The NAACP Legal Defense Fund sponsored the suit, which identifies the plaintiffs as the Rev. Cato Brooks Jr., the Rev. J. H. Cooley, Eddie Tate and Lance Watson.

Tate and Watson are members of the Invaders, a militant black organization. All of the plaintiffs are Negroes.

Last March 2 students rioted at an all-Negro school after Cooley was dismissed as an instructor of seventh-grade students. Brooks has been heading a Negro protest which alleges that discrimination is practiced against Negroes in the area.

How to stay cool without getting hot under the collar.

Remember that as the temperature goes up, so does the use of electricity to run your household. And this is easy to forget sometimes.

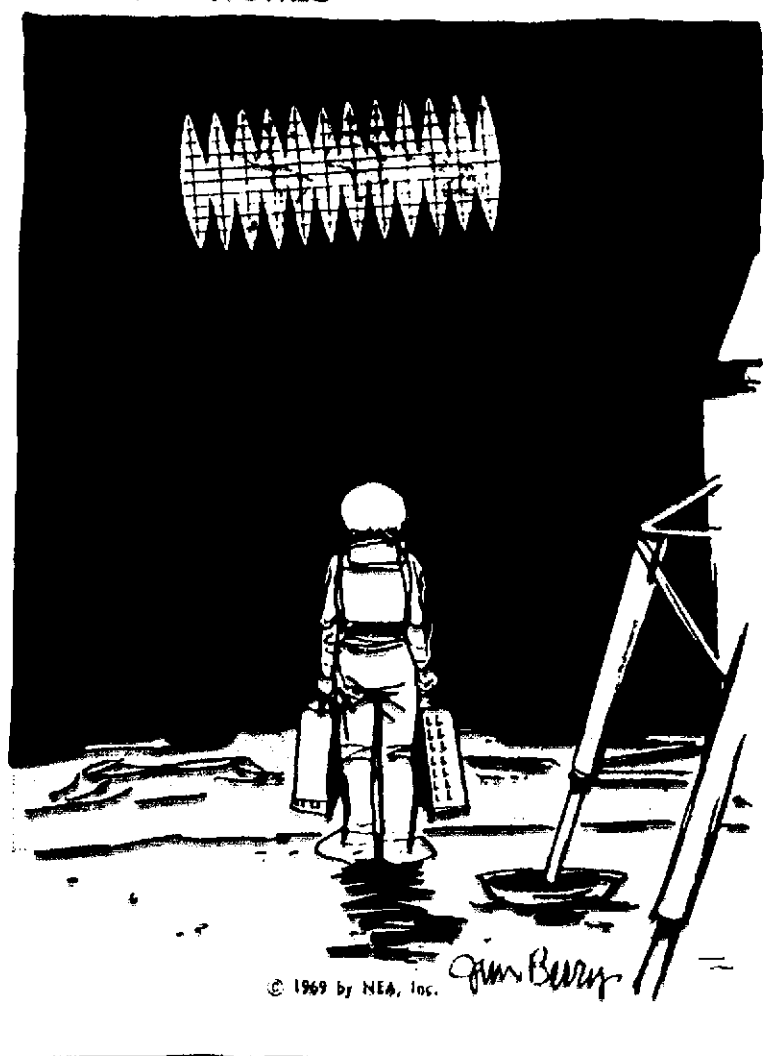

Take air conditioning, for example. A one-ton air conditioner running around-the-clock can add as much as $14.40 a month to your bill. Not to mention all of the other hot weather uses that are increased — like fans, refrigerators, freezers, icemakers, water heaters, washers, dryers, irons, electric lawn mowers, etc.

But electricity is still the biggest bargain in your family budget. And just think back a few days and a few 100 degrees. Aren't you glad Reddy Kilowatt was around?

At AP&L we figure family comfort doesn't cost. It pays.
